The Congressional Candidates

It is next to impossible for two men to stand upon platforms more widely separated in their principles than the Congressional candidates now before the people of Oregon Mr Henderson is in favor of every wise measure for suppressing the rebellion, sustains the Government through the Administration, and takes his views and acts as a man should who lives in the last half of the nineteenth century Wide awake to the startling events transpiring around him and he endorses every act of the President which can in any way weaken the forces of treason and proposes to, and will go to Congress and take a part in more glorious work than was ever found now written in the annals of the world's progress He is honest, and his election will receive the support of the people of Oregon

Mr Wallace, a supporter of the Union nominee in all respects of his party, cannot see any point in question presented by current events which demands consideration, he says the interests of the country have been deprived of their most powerful aids in the prosecution of this war and this he lames is He is compelled to go back and search the musty records of antiquity in order to get something for his argument, and sometimes his attention to dates and facts, spends a world of breath in discussing the unlawfulness of what never existed He says the President violated the Alien Law (of the 18th century) but he does not see the difference between an alien and a naturalized citizen, and he thinks the former can send all foreigners out of the country He opposes the Sedition Law because thereby a man could be punished for treason when found guilty He has many friends who agree with him in his articles of faith but most of them being at the South the law in Oregon will be woefully beaten at the polls to-day

[illegible] The subjoined dispatches were read at the Mass meeting of Regular Union men on Saturday evening and elicited tumultuous applause The hearty response which the Union element of the interior makes to the action of our Regular Union Multnomah County exhibits the enthusiasm which pervades the entire people of every section after the tremendous efforts of the Lincoln county copperheads to elect their ticket this county is certain of one hundred Union majority, over and above the imported borough gas no doubt can remain that the Regular Union Ticket will carry every county in the State Read the dispatches

THE MONITOR —From appearances at the shipyard where the Comanche is to be built, says the S L Dem Press, it would seem that the contractor is nearly ready to begin the work of putting her together The plates and machinery have all been thoroughly cleaned and painted, and placed in position to be used when the work of rebuilding begins

A Last Word.

This day the contest is to be decided The Administration will be sustained in its efforts to suppress the rebellion, or the citizens of Oregon will stand committed to the side of treason Which shall it be?

Crush the Rebellion.

We earnestly call upon every voter who wants to see the rebellion crushed, to vote the Regular ticket There is no compromise with traitors—no half way patriotism

Do You Love Your Country?

Vote the ticket which will express that love without the possibility of being misunderstood

Watch Your Ticket.

Every trick which it is possible to conceive will be played to day, to tarow honest Union men off their guard Scan the ticket you are to deposit as you would a note of hand involving the payment of gold Do not trust to the wording at the top of the ticket, but see that every name you would vote is there, and none others The tickets will be contrived for deception, and the utmost care must be exercised

Go to the Polls Early.

Let every Union man be on hand early in the day, and there remain until he has cast his vote Do not leave because the line is long, but keep watch and see that those who are in line are voters. Stay at the polls all day if necessary, rather than go away without depositing a full Union ticket

Avoid Dissensions.

We trust that the Union men will not suffer themselves to be drawn into personal discussions to-day. It is the policy of some few who claim to be good Union men, to engender as much bad feeling as possible, without any reasonable expectation of good to the party resulting therefrom

Don't Scratch the Ticket.

Mark well those, who, claiming to be supporters of the Regular Ticket, scratch or try to induce others to scratch any name of a regular nominee from the ticket

Campaign Logic.

Voters must expect to hear, on election day, that most of the candidates are anything but honest Pay no attention to the munchausenisms used to defeat good men, but go the straight ticket

Melaleukation.

The copperheads are exhibiting their melaleukotic proclivities by mixing the names of their candidates with the Union men If care is not taken, some one or more of the wrong men will get a vote unintentionally Beware of the melaleukots.

The Regular Ticket

will be found at the head of the editorial column this morning See that those names are all down in order on the ticket you vote, if you desire to give unequivocal support to the Union

Beware of Miscegenation.

We learned late last night that no less than twenty-two different tickets, or tickets got up with mixed nominees and irregulars were prepared for circulation to day Don't touch any of the miscegenetic ballots

IS NOT A CANDIDATE —In another column we publish a card of Mr S L Stevens, declining to be a candidate for any office in Clackamas county. The card, from its date, should have come to hand in time for our Saturday's issue, but was not received here until Saturday evening

In this connection we desire to make an explanation due the Hon A L Lovejoy as well as ourself Mr Lovejoy's letter was received on Thursday evening and with the article to which it was appended was set up, the proof read, and its non appearance in Friday's Daily was purely accidental —the galley containing that and some other matter being overlooked in making up the form We certainly regret the accident as much as can Mr. Lovejoy

THE MASS MEETING ON SATURDAY NIGHT. The Regular Union mass meeting at Williamette Theatre on Saturday evening was a complete success The meeting was called together by a band of excellent music, and a considerable display of pyrotechnics Hon David Logan made a stirring speech in behalf of the regular ticket and was warmly applauded Mr Wakefield, candidate for the Legislature, also defined his position, and made a brief but eloquent appeal to the citizens in behalf of the Ticket, and the vast throng dispersed determined to do their whole duty to day

SANITARY FUND COLLECTIONS TO DAY —Let it be remembered that while we are to day enjoying a blessing of liberty in the peaceful exercise of the elective franchise, we should do something for those who need our sympathy. Boxes will be found at the different polls in which all the spare greenbacks and double eagles can be dropped for the benefit of the brave but suffering soldier boys

MR HODGKINSON —We have been requested by Mr Hodgkinson to call attention of voters to a ticket in which everything is regular except his name for Prosecuting Attorney—that of Wolf being substituted Look out for that and other split tickets

"UNION FOREVER"—The communication from our St Helens correspondent did not come to hand until yesterday, too late to render the service its early reception would have effected We are sorry, for we should have been pleased to publish the letter

THE FOUR G'S —One of the prominent candidates for Congress at the next election says that he has great faith in the four G's to settle the rebellion properly—God, Grant, Gunpowder and Greenbacks

In Baltimore they call the negro soldiers, who are abundant there, "smoked Yankees"

LATER FROM THE EAST.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO "THE DAILY OREGONIAN"

Dates to June 1.

NEW YORK June 1—A letter from Edinburg, Shenandoah Valley says a reconnoissance in force found the enemy 4 000 strong in our front

The following is the conclusion of the action of the Radical Convention

CLEVELAND May 31—Col. Moss, of Missouri, moved that John C Fremont, be declared the nominee of the Convention for President of the United States

An amendment was offered that the vote not in time be referred to a convention to be held at Cleveland on the first Wednesday of September Only nine voted in the affirmative

A motion to adjourn was lost

The nomination of Fremont was then made by acclamation

John Cochran of New York and Gratz Brown of Missouri and B F Butler of Massachusetts were named for the Vice Presidency

Cochran begged leave to retire and A Gilbert of New York took the chair

The nomination of Cochran for Vice President was then confirmed with but a few negative votes

At the evening session the following National Committee was appointed From New York Edward Gilbert Walter H Shrieve and Frederick Kopp Ohio, Byrd B Chapman, Missouri, Hamilton Morris and Charles Moss, Kansas P Leggett New Jersey L Granger, Pennsylvania J W Barker Massachusetts Wendell Phillips Iowa F P Stembold, Maryland, Wm Sneather Indiana Chas Post Illinois Casper Berts and Gilbert

The Committee reported the name of the party as the Radical Democracy, which was adopted by the Convention After some further important business the Convent on adjourned sine die

PHILADELPHIA June 1—A special to the Evening Telegraph has news from Dalton which says that Sherman arrived at Dallas on the 26th and pushed reinforcements through to McPherson who was expected to reach Atlanta by Saturday the 24th, unless a heavy force of the rebels met him on the way At the last accounts he was at Sweetwater town, and had driven the rebels across Powder and Nickajack Creeks and got possession of the bridge across Chattahoochee, 13 miles from Atlanta

The main army under Thomas reached and captured Marietta on the 30th taking 400 prisoners a railroad train with sick and wounded rebels, several guns and some small arms

Johnston with a fragment of his deserting army has crossed Chattahoochee Creek and was falling back to Atlanta

SAN FRANCISCO June 1—The steamer Stephens arrived this morning from the Mexican coast All is quiet at Mazatlan She brings $150,000 in treasure and a large quantity of ores

Mexican dates to the 26th of April represent that the Liberal party were holding their own everywhere

Miramon formerly a Mexican General had been released of his command and sent as a prisoner to the city of Mexico, tried by court martial convicted of making great efforts to array the Mexican traitor forces in the country in counter revolution against Maximilian as Emperor, and in favor of a native Mexican for that position, and sentenced to be banished

A revolt of the inhabitants in the city of Sparatorps had taken place They overpowered the French garrison and butchered all that they could find

General Dis attacked the State of Puebla with great success

The steamer St Louis sailed yesterday with 144 passengers, $1,333 000

Grand Union Demonstration at La Grand

LA GRAND Baker Co, May 30 1864

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The Union and loyal citizens of this city had a grand turn out on Saturday last in order to raise a Liberty Pole, and procession &c.

All preliminaries being arranged, the main pole was raised at 11 A M under the immediate supervision of Captain Harlow, a regular square rigged sailor, and a salute of thirteen guns fired After resting a little time and attending to the wants of the inner man, the "Unions turned out and assembled at their Hall from whence they started in full procession, headed by the band promenading our streets in fine style, each member of the procession wearing a badge emblematic of courage purity and truth in the shape of ribbons Red, White and Blue

At about 2 P M the topmast was raised and at 3 o clock the ladies of the city hoisted our National flag at the same time singing the "Star Spangled Banner After three rousing cheers for the flag of our Union, the procession was again formed under the direction of A Withycell, Esq, Marshal of the day The ladies taking the lead marched down to a large house capable of accommodating several hundred persons and several speakers, amongst whom were some of the Union candidates for office in the county, addressed the meeting on the political issues of the day.

Adjourning at half past five o clock in the afternoon 35 guns were fired in honor of the Union

In the evening of the same day a ball was given for the benefit of the Sanitary Fund.

VERITAS

P S —The procession was not formed principally of boys, but of more than 150 men The "unterrified" were not there. This county is at least six to one for the Union V

NAVIGATING THE COWLITZ RIVER —In the matter of the Monticello and Cowlitz Landing Steamboat company versus the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, application for injunction. This was argued before Judge Wyche, at Chambers, Vancouver, W T, on the 1st inst We have been furnished with the decision, but owing to its length, shall be unable to give it room for two or three days In the meantime, we give the Hon Judge's conclusions

Upon the whole, and after giving to the authorities the examination I thought due to the questions involved, I am of the opinion that the steamer Express in running under a license for carrying on the "coasting trade" from the city of Portland, in the State of Oregon to points on Cowlitz river, in Washington Territory, is engaged in "commerce among the several States," and that the act of the Legislature of Washington Territory passed January 21st, 1863, and the act amendatory, passed January 25th 1864 incorporating the "Monticello and Cowlitz Landing Steamboat Co," and conferring upon that Co the exclusive right to navigate for six years the Cowlitz river between Monticello and Cowlitz Landing are repugnant to the Constitution and laws of the United States, and consequently inoperative and void in so far as said acts may prohibit vessels licensed under the laws of the United States for carrying on the "coasting trade" from navigating the waters of the United States from any port of the several States or a foreign country to the different landings on the Cowlitz river in the Territory of Washington and the injunction prayed for by plaintiffs is accordingly refused

J E WYCHE, Judge,

A COMPARISON — During the month of April the value of exports from San Francisco, other than gold and silver, was $94,886 during the same period the freight paid on goods received at that port was $710,624 During the same month the exports of the products of this Territory amounted to $1, 328,245, and the amount paid for freight on goods received, as near as can be ascertained exceeded $700,000—the average monthly cost of freight being upwards of $1 000 000 So that, according to these figures Nevada though a sage bush and sand country exports and imports nearly as much as California Facts are stubborn things and these are stubborn facts —Gold Hill Nevada Messenger, 4 T

Lord Rose, of telescope notoriety was recently injured by the fall of a tree in his park He was struck on the head, and is reported to have seen a multitude of stars unknown to his most powerful telescope.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA —On the first day of 1864, the population of South Australia was —males 72 109 females, 68,707 This is an increase during the year of 5 087

Leading Mormons appear to be anxious to have Utah admitted as a State Before they can get into the Union of States they must dissolve their union of wives So says the Sacramento Bee and that paper is always sound on the Union question

It is stated that at the Fort Pillow massacre, a Federal Lieutenant was nailed to the side of a building with his arms extended and the house then set on fire and all burned up together

Retiring from the Practice of Medicine
A CARD.

DR L J CZAPKAY begs leave to announce to the public, and particularly to the patrons of the Medical Institute that he is about to close his business, with the view of retiring for the present from the arduous labors of his profession

As it is his intention during the ensuing Fall to leave the United States for the purpose of visiting Europe he will not receive any new patients after the first day of July 1864 Those therefore who may desire his services will apply within a reasonable time, Dr Czapkay desires to assure those who are now under his care that they will continue to receive all the attention which his obligations prescribe and their cases respectively demand Those who hold contracts guaranteeing a cure are hereby requested to report to Dr Czapkay before the first day of June 1864, whether or not they are satisfied that a cure has been effected in their cases respectively All who do not thus report within the time specified will be regarded and treated as cured

In taking leave of his patients and the public Dr Czapkay desires to express his profound gratitude for the extraordinary patronage bestowed upon him and the confidence reposed in his professional ability

During his residence in California Dr Czapkay has treated successfully upwards of two hundred patients, which is the best guarantee that his course of treatment has been rewarded with a success almost unprecedented in the annals of medicine

Any physician in good standing who may desire to purchase the interest of Dr Czapkay in his Institute, and the good will of his business may make application at once stating proposals.

COUNTY COURTS.—The County Court will meet in this city for the purpose of transacting business, to-morrow. It has been suggested by some, and we think with much propriety, that the law in relation to the duties and jurisdiction of that Court might be improved and much expense saved to the county. In stead of having the Circuit Court overrun with business why not let the County Courts take cognizance of cases of forfeitures and misdemeanors? In fact, give them all the criminal jurisdiction allowed them by the constitution, and let the party be arraigned upon information by the Prosecuting Attorney of the District. If that would not be practicable, on account of the number of Courts in the same district, allow the Prosecuting Attorney to appoint a deputy for each county, where necessary. In this way the Circuit Court would be relieved of much business, which though sometimes unimportant takes up the time of the Court to the great inconvenience of litigants, and expense of the county. So far as Multnomah county is concerned such a law is needed, or there should be established a separate Circuit Court for the county and county. A Court corresponding with the Superior Court of San Francisco, would be a good thing in this case, but we doubt whether that could be done, under our constitution and we believe in California the same was declared invalid nor are we certain that we could have a separate Circuit Court. Something will have to be done, however before long on the subject, and unless the State shall pass a general law increasing the jurisdiction of County Courts, we no doubt will be soon compelled to ask for such an amendment of the constitution as to allow us increased powers in our courts of justice. It may be thought premature to agitate this question, but if the law is to be amended for the purpose, there is no time to spare.

ELECTION DAY.—This will undoubtedly be a holiday Oregon has seen for many years, as likely to see again, until the presidential election. During the muddle of the past few weeks pending this election, some very queer sayings and doings have been in order. Men usually quiet tempers have been quite indignant and will be more so when they or some friend of theirs shall be denied the honor of office and its emoluments. The good people have been busy in trying to separate the wheat from the chaff, and know not whom to bestow their favors. Society is distracted—on the outside the aspirants are good looking, and they all profess enough virtue to save a nation—if there is the least gulp among them it don't appear—the spoken they are, and brave in attacking a political G help the poor chap that has a blemish about him in a race for office, you trust and he goes in he does so like "a bird dest ote" charge and honor, and with all the crimes denounced in the decalogue stuck upon him. Lookabtoms thinks but a saint a thousand years dead should rest from all even then such a one will be liable to have his name cast out of heaven as evil unless he has gone into a partnership and established a fare hand, and if to divide with him, all the offices and country. Very many will be engaged in electioneering to-day, and in such weather it is a serious business. The best remedy we know of is to keep the head cool, and the gizzard full of the truth and shame the devil to the nicket straight, and quarrel afterwards.

OYSTERS.—We have been shown more than one of the finest Owyhee quartz specimens in the shape of a few specimens brought in by Mr. Swartz who has just arrived direct from that region. These specimens come from the recently discovered ledge, which has been named Silver Leaf, and are very rich. It is stated that $200 was taken from an amount of rock that was pounded up by one man with a hammer, in half a day. The mines of the country are only retarded for the want of proper machinery to work the rock, as at present the only means are the rude arrastre and churn on pledges, but by day two more mills are on the way to Owyhee the Auburn mill which left some three weeks since, and the mill which has been manufactured in this city at the Oregon Iron Works, by Messrs Fountain Leffel & Carrico, which leaves on the steamer Wilson G Hunt next morning. This mill has five stamps, and is propelled by a steam engine with power to run ten. The mill has been tried since it was shipped, and the character of the rock who go with it, is sufficient to say, its practicability in the work for which it is intended.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.—A man living at the upper end of the city, got into a quarrel on Sunday with one of his neighbors, a widow woman, concerning some actions of his children, and after heaping abuse upon her for which time was compelled to "flee from the wrath to come," by beating a hasty retreat, aided by a few well calculated blows across the neck and shoulders, from a stick in the hands of the woman. The friends of the woman afterwards took the matter up, and pulled the masculine progenitor to vacate the premises he had previously occupied, they being controlled by the women.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.—We have several times, lately, observed machinery for use in the various branches of agriculture, carried through our streets to different parts of the country. This morning a fine ten horse power threshing machine, of the Pitts manufacture, passed up to the Cascades, on the way to Walla Walla valley, shipped by Knapp, Burrell & Co. of this city, who are constantly importing the finest kinds of these indispensible articles.

ARRAIGNED.—Sam Pride and C Graham, two colored individuals, were arraigned before Justice McCoy, on a charge of riotous and disorderly conduct, brought by the complaint of O Kelly. The complainant failed to appear on Saturday morning, and the defendants were discharged.

RETURNED TO VOTE.—In order that the men employed upon the steamer John H Couch may exercise their rights of the elective franchise, Capt Holman will not leave for Astoria this morning until the polls have been opened a sufficient length of time for that purpose.

GOOD STAVES.—The bark Industry stopped at St. Helens, on the passage to Astoria and took thirty cords of Oak staves for San Francisco, in addition to her cargo of produce.

THE LEVIATHAN, Capt Spencer, left Astoria "right side up," on Wednesday last, for the same voyage to Victoria.

EXTRAORDINARY.—Mrs Ah Fee, wife of a Celestial living in this city, gave birth to twin daughters on Saturday morning

The ladies of the Sanitary Aid Society wish to call particular attention of the judges of the election in the various precincts to have contribution boxes placed so that all may contribute their mite to the sick and wounded soldiers.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS.—The Sunday excursion business was very well yesterday and the steamer Rescue made trips between the city and Red House, every hour for the most part of the entire day.

CONFECTIONERY.—A Bergman has established a confectionery on Front street near to the Star Bakery. His assortment consists of choice varieties in the line of candies, etc.

29. In every age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than Dr Osgood's Indian Cholagogue. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all.

Be particular to enquire for Dr Osgood's Indian Cholagogue, and take no other. Sold everywhere.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties and it is recommended to mothers enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

Diseases of Old Age.—As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

The Artic Prison: a Thrilling Story of the Sea.

The ship swung heavily to and fro—the long yards creaking and shivering upon the masts.

The wind whistled with a shrill weird sound among the shrouds bent inwards as though unseen hands of heavy footed men were ascending them. It was a dark night, yet not so dark but that we could see the lofty icebergs by which we were surrounded looming up like specters through the gloom. We were tossing about on the waters of the Artic Ocean and—subjected to a heavy sea and a gale of wind—our position was a dangerous one. We had already begun to prepare rafts, and to hoist our chests on deck—expecting every moment that the ship would be stove by the ice. Heavy masses were continually crushing against the bows, and thundering under the counter, causing the vessel to shake and quiver from stem to stern, as though every timber was about to give way. At times the concussion would be so violent that all hands would be thrown off their feet, and tumble on top of each other, in a manner that was far from agreeable. Suddenly a white face with wild glaring eyes and quivering lips, appeared among us. It was that of the captain's wife. She had her hand upon her husband's arm, as he stood near the bow.

"Lilian! Lilian!" she gasped, "where is our Lilian?"

"Lilian? Good heavens! wife, what do you mean? I left her with you in the cabin!"

"She is not there now—I have looked in all the rooms. Oh, God! my child! my child!" and the mother wrung her hands in anguish, while her white face grew still whiter.

"Wife! wife!" exclaimed the captain, half sternly, "Lilian was with you when I left the cabin; surely you did not let her leave your side at such a time as this?"

"Yes! yes!" cried his wife, in accents of the most piercing grief. "It is all my fault—she is lost! My little one is lost! and I am the cause!"

"For God's sake, explain yourself!" gasped the captain.

"I left her down in the cabin," faltered the agonized mother, "and came on deck, as I wanted to speak to you. I thought you were in the waist, so I groped my way there and tried to find you. Not seeing you, I started on my return, fearing to leave Lilian so long alone. But when I reached the cabin again, she was not there—gone! gone! God only knows where!"

"Lilian! Lilian! has any one seen Lilian?"

Fore and aft, from every lip, in startling accents, the cry went up amid the storm!

But the loud wind only answered with a deeper howl. The long yards still creaked upon their rusty rivets. The heavy icebergs crashed upon the bows; and the timber groaned and shook as they had done before. The silvery accents of little Lilian's voice came not to our ears, and we felt as if it was hushed forever. But the wailing tones of the poor mother, and the despairing shouts of the father—both of whom could not bear to give up their child—continued long after our voices had ceased. Then, we—rough-hearted, childless men though we were—forgetting our own danger, gathered about the afflicted pair, and tried to console them. I don't think we succeeded very well, for our voices trembled a great deal; and the tears would come to our eyes, though we kept wiping them away with the cuffs of our heavy jackets. No one of us but had loved little Lilian almost as well as the parents themselves. She was but seven years of age; yet the earnest glance of her large blue eyes would go straight to our hearts and make us feel kind and good towards each other. To utter an oath when she was near would have seemed like sacrilege. Like a lily, she had bloomed in our midst, sheding a heavenly influence about her.

Strong—oh! strong is the power of innocent childhood over a sinful heart!

It was while we thus stood, clustered near the binnacle, offering what little consolation we could to the captain and his wife; that one of the ship's crew—an old tar, by the name of Bill Butler—came towards us, holding a few little torn shreds of cloth in his hand.

"I found these ere hanging on a hook on the outside of the bulwark," said Bill in a mournful voice.

"It is a part of Lilian's dress!" shrieked the captain's voice.

The captain buried his face in his hands with a groan and we looked at one and another in sad silence. There could no longer be any doubt about the matter. Lilian had fallen overboard.

The few remaining hours of the night wore away. The gale subsided. Miraculously, as it seemed to us, the ship had escaped being stove, and as the sea had gone down with the gale, there was now no more danger. Overwhelmed with grief, yet feeling it his duty to try and console his wife, the captain descended into the cabin, leaving the management of the ship's affairs in the hands of the mate. Presently the steward came on deck. He wished to know if any of the hands had seen Bluco that morning. This was the name of a large Newfoundland dog, which had been a great favorite with Lilian, and she had especial delight in feeding him. The dog had grown extremely fond of his young mistress, and would show his attachment in many ways peculiar to his kind. Now that their darling was lost, the captain had ordered the steward to bring Bluco to them—thinking that the sight of him might afford a melancholy consolation to his wife. Having searched the cabin through without being able to find the animal, the steward came on deck, as we have said, to inquire if he had been noticed by any of the hands. We all answered in the negative. None of us had seen the dog since the previous night. Thereupon the ship was ransacked fore and aft, for the missing animal; and although we searched in every nook and corner, he was not to be found.

While we were all wondering what had become of him, the man at the mast sung out that there were whales astern. The mate instantly ordered the boats to be lowered, and before we had scarcely time to divest ourselves of the idea that we were still looking for the dog, we were paddling swiftly in the wake of a great fat bow-head. The whale made straight for a field of ice in the distance, and went down when he had got in the midst of it. We followed him almost to the spot where he had disappeared, and then lay motionless and silent, waiting for the next rising. Large masses of ice, flashing gloriously in the early rays of the sun and moulded into a thousand different shapes, surrounded our little craft on every hand, floating by with majestic slowness, and now and then crashing against each other with a force that caused some of them to be rent asunder. Strange, beautiful monuments are these fashioned by the hand of nature—monuments of the frozen mariners that sleep below.

"There it goes again," said old Bill Butler, in a whisper.

"What?" asked the mate.

"That barking noise," replied Bill; "I've been hearin' it ever since we left the ship, sir."

The mate leaned upon his steering oar and listened.

"It is a seal," he said.

"Beg your pardon, sir, replied Bill; "but I never heard a seal bark like that."

"Good heavens!" exclaimed a Portugoese, so loud that the mate was obliged to rap him on the head with his knuckles. "Good heavens!" he added, in a lower tone, "me think that one dog."

A Man Confined in a Saltpetre Cave for Nine Months.—The Chattanooga Gazette of the 14th April, tells the following almost incredible story:

The people of Harker's Gap were much alarmed yesterday morning by a rumor that there was a human being in an old saltpetre cave near the Gap. Surgeon Marks, Medical Director, and Surgeon Powers, of the Artillery Corps, were sent for, and after a great deal of labor, the poor fellow was taken from his living tomb. He was immediately recognized as John Harrison, Jr. It is supposed that this unfortunate man was deposited in the cave about the middle of last August by his father, who is connected with the mining and nitre bureau of the U. S. A. and that he has remained there ever since. When taken out he was entirely helpless and speechless, and, although youthful, was wholly destitute of hair and teeth. He will not be able to tell the tale of his horrible sufferings for years. How he sustained existence in that "dark, unfathomed cave" for three quarters of a year, is a question for the student in physiology to answer. Parties were immediately sent out to explore the various salpetre caves in this vicinity, as it is supposed that when the rebels fell back from here, a large number of unfortunates were hidden away in the same manner.

Seventy-Five Miles of Pork.—During the pork season just passed, Illinois packed 1,273,390 hogs, of an average weight of 190 pounds. If these were placed in cars, ten tons in each car, each car measuring two rods, it would make a train seventy-five miles long. Allowing twenty cars to each locomotive, it would take six hundred locomotives to drive the train.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

OR PROTECTED

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public:

Rev. JOHN PIERPONT, THOMAS O. AMORY,
THOMAS A. DEXTER, PETER HARVEY,
S. H. RENDALL, M D, JAMES C. DUNN,

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by combination in a way unknown; and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M D,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. C. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly" July 6, 1859, page 76.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid:

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY is upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs in a gentle manner, at once assimilating, invigorating and purifying them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, flattering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.
